BROOKLYN CITY.

Breeklyo Blackgonrdism-A Man Beaten Brooklyo Binckgonrdism—A Man Bensen While Protecting a Lady from Insult. James McCloud was taken before Justice Delmar yestering to answer a charge of having committeed a fetonious ansult on James Downey, in the store of Owen Merrin, No. 18 Atlantic street. Downey was too badly injured to appear a court, but from what could be learned in regard to the wign of the difficulty at appears that the accused was insuling Mrs. Merrin, in the absence of her husband, and Downey interfered to protect her, when he was assailed. In the cause which ensued Downey was beaten over the head, and excelved a serious cut on the mouth. McCloud was committed to jail until Wednesday next, when he will be tried.

Lym.

A young woman, who had no objection to having bername recorded as Kitty Doe, was brought in by detective Folk yesterday and charged with shoplifting. The detective observed for at the corner of Myrtie avenue and Lawrence street with three coats in her possession. She gave them to a boy just before the officer caught her, and then politely informed him that there was "nothing found on her" and she could not be convicted. The boy who had the coats refused to give his same, and they were recorded as Kitty Doe and Johnny Roc.

Brooklyn's Burnings.

Brooklyn's Burnings.

Pire Marshal Keady submitted his monthly report of fires to the Board of Police Commissioners. During the month of April there were twenty-live fires, involving losses to the amount of $101,460. There were insurances on the property to the amount of $102,150.

Most of the fires, the Fire Marshal contends, might have been prevented by the exercise of a little care. The burning of the Church of the Messiah was caused by the exercisence.

of the Church of the Messiah was caused by the carelesaness of the man who put in the heater a few days previous. Raif the churches in the city, the Marshal says, are in no heiter condition, and are liable to take fire at any time. There were three persons lurned to death. On the 8th inst. Elien McLaughin, aged 14 years, was burned to death at 91 Fearl atreet; Mary Gilroy, two years old, was burned to death by her clothes taking fire from the stove, and Mrs. Pauline Coro was burned to death at 9th residence, 519 Henry street, by her clothes taking fire from a lighted paper which she stropped on the floor. Mrs. Mary McDonaid, who was arbested for arson, was discharged.

after visiting the Twenty-eighth street Opera House.

NEWCOMB & ARLINGTON'S MINSTREES,

(From the New York Democrat.)

Some weary mortal once offered a kingdom for a new pleasure. If any one in search of a similar boon will visit this establishment they may be content to seek no further.

One feature we must object to, however. By what authority do Mesera. Newcomb & Arington depart from the old fashloned usage of "Minstrelsy" and perpetrate new jakes, wittlessms unleard of before? We protest against such inhovation. Go back, desslears, to the old plan, and then the audience will know exactly where to laugh and where to sleep.

ANEW WAY TO PAY OLD DEBTS.

Sir Giles Overreach.

CHARLES R THORN, JR.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

UPON R. L. DAVENPORT'S SIR GILES OVERREACH.
His impersonation is vivid, with the strong, hard passions depicted, without any tendency to over-wrought ram or straining for unnecessary effect.—Herald.
Mr. Davenport has made a special study of it, and is the best representation of it on the moderu stage.—Tribuna.
His impersonation of Sir Giles was very powerful, especially in the last act, where he discovers that instead of triumphing in his policy of overreaching every one he is himself overreached.—World,
It is a powerful plece of acting, and will always rank as one of the actor's best personations.—Star.

A capital effort of a giffed, thoughtful and finished artist.—Times.

It wars genuine tribute to his histrionic ability.—Telegram.
